*REDISCOVER
THE HISTORY
OF LUTHERAN WOMEN*

How Concordia Historical
Institute serves the women of the LWML

*FOR OVER 80 YEARS, WOMEN OF THE
MISSOURI SYNOD HAVE RESPONDED WITH JOY
TO THE GOSPEL BY “SERV[ING] THE
LORD WITH GLADNESS”
(PSALM 100:2).*

*CONCORDIA HISTORICAL INSTITUTE WANTS TO HELP YOU TRUMPET
AND TREASURE THIS LEGACY OF LOVE.*

CONCORDIA HISTORICAL INSTITUTE (CHI) is the official archive of The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod and the home of the official archives of the LWML.

Concordia Historical Institute houses historically-significant records and artifacts relating to Lutheranism in North America. As the largest archive of its kind, CHI is the premiere destination for professional researchers, genealogists, pastors, church and auxiliary institution officials, and anyone wanting to learn about, see, and touch our church's rich history.

The shelves of CHI are full of photos, film reels, scrapbooks, articles, personal letters, convention materials, official acts, and more that bear witness to the incredible work done by generations of LWML sisters. From precious photos from the earliest days of the LWML to the iconic LWML beanie baby bear, we have touchstones to connect you to your history and inspire your Gospel proclamation into the future.

CONCORDIA HISTORICAL INSTITUTE SERVES THE LWML BY HELPING YOU:

- plan a presentation or project on the history of the LWML
- strategize archiving for your LWML district or zone
- treasure the rich history of the LWML in your region
- maintain historically significant artifacts and documents
- learn about the history of your congregation
- find out more about a Lutheran ancestor
